

FLORALIA BRUSSELS
April 8th until May 8th 2011

The 8th edition of the Spring flower show held on the grounds and in the greenhouses of the Castle of Groot-Bijgaarden will now bear the name of "FLORALIA BRUSSELS".

This exhibition, resolutely turned towards international markets, is attracting more and more foreign tourists who visit our capital in the spring.

In 2010, the Japanese, Russians and Poles were particularly noticed among the thousands of visitors who admired the profusion of colors in the flowerbeds.

Like every year, over one and a half million tulips, hyacinths, daffodils and grape hyacinths were planted under the old trees of the 14 hectares park of the castle and spring offers the exceptional display of nature's revival. 400 varieties of tulips will be shown, some of which have not yet received a name.

You will discover a prestigious exhibition of floral arrangements and decorative plants in the greenhouses. More than 10,000 flowers from various flower markets in Europe are renewed each week.

The chapel and the tower will surprise you with flowers.

Following the success of last year, many birds and animals will awake again the children's curiosity.

Tulips, orchids and other bulbs can be purchased at the entrance to the castle.
